http://www.unl.edu/gradstudies/facstaff/awards

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln Graduate Research & Creative Activities Award recognizes the excellent quality of research and creative activity carried out by UNL graduate students.

Two recipients will be honored at an awards luncheon during the spring research fair on April 5, 2017 and will receive a medallion and a cash award of $1,000.00.

Eligibility:
1. All current graduate students at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln are eligible for this award.
2. Previous recipients of this award are not eligible.
3. Awards will be made on the basis of outstanding contributions to research or creative activities, future promise as a researcher, performer, and/or artist and originality, imagination and significance of research or creative activity.

Nomination Timeline:
2. The nominee will be contacted to submit supporting materials by February 1, 2017.
3. Individuals must be nominated by tenure-line faculty members.

Nomination Process
Students interested in applying for this award should make their interest known to faculty who can write letters of nomination and support. Additionally, faculty are asked to identify and encourage students to prepare application materials that will be submitted online using the online application process.

Nominators:
1. Complete the online nomination form.
2. Submit a letter of nomination no more than two pages, outlining the research and creative activities, submitted by the faculty advisor or other faculty member qualified to assess the nominee’s research or creative activities. The nomination letter should describe in detail the quality, significance and extent of the research or creative activity; and the methods by which it was communicated to appropriate audiences in the form of presentations, performances, exhibitions, recitals or publications.

Each nominee must submit:
1. One-page summary of research or creative activity in non-specialist language—written by the nominee—of the program of research or creative activities accomplished as a graduate student at UNL.
2. A two-page curriculum vita that clearly lists the nominees’ publications, patents, performances and/or exhibits accomplished at UNL, participation in academic and professional organizations, and recognitions and awards etc.

NOTE: No videos, binders, or other materials will be accepted.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln is an equal opportunity educator and employer with a comprehensive plan for diversity.
