

REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS:

Book Fellowship and Manuscript Workshop Program: R&I Book Manuscript Workshop Grants

Office of Research and Innovation
University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Application Deadline: April 1, 2026
Proposals must be submitted in NuRamp.

Program Overview

The goals of the Office of Research and Innovation (R&I)'s Book Fellowship and Manuscript Workshop Program are to: 1) advance excellence and achievement in research, scholarship, and creative endeavors through book publishing and 2) increase the number of books published by University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) faculty to 750 by 2034. The program provides faculty with funds to support the writing and publishing of new books. Two types of awards are offered:

- R&I Book Fellowships support time for faculty to focus on writing and publishing a book through a course buyout or summer salary support and/or costs related to the publishing process. Fellowships provide support for only one book, and the expected output is the timely publication of the new book.
- R&I Book Manuscript Workshop Grants provide funds for faculty to participate in an external manuscript workshop to obtain expert feedback on their draft book manuscript or to host a book manuscript workshop that brings external expert reviewers to UNL. Proposals to participate in an external workshop must focus on only one book manuscript, but proposals to host a workshop at UNL may request support for one or multiple UNL-authored book manuscripts to be reviewed in the workshop. The expected outcome is to enhance the quality of the book manuscript(s) prior to submission for publication and thus ultimately contribute to the successful publication of the new book(s).

Funds may not be used to support research, scholarship, creative endeavors, or travel to generate content for books; funding for these activities is available from other R&I internal funding opportunities. See R&I's Internal Funding Opportunities webpage for more information.

This Request for Proposals (RFP) is for R&I Book Manuscript Workshop Grants.
A separate RFP is available for R&I Book Fellowships.

Award Information

Allowable costs: Funds may only be used to support travel and per diem costs, honoraria to bring external expert reviewers to UNL, and/or food and beverages for workshops at UNL. See Budget Guidelines below for complete details about allowable and unallowable costs.

Award amounts: There is no maximum award amount for this program; budget requests should reflect the scope and scale of the proposed work.

Project duration: The award duration for R&I Book Manuscript Workshop Grants is 12 months. For this award cycle, the award period is August 1, 2026, to July 31, 2027.

Available funds and expected number of awards: The number of awards issued will be determined based on proposal quality (see Proposal Review Process and Timeline below) and availability of funds.

Eligibility

Book eligibility: Eligible books must meet the definition of books used by the Association of American Universities (AAU), which include books, case books, edited volumes, encyclopedia, and textbooks. Proceedings, chapters, study guides, or updates to current editions will not be supported by this program.

For each supported book manuscript, the applicant must be able to provide a book prospectus or show the commitment of a publisher through an advance contract, contract with a publisher, or a letter from an editor describing their intent to publish the book (see “Book Documentation” in the Proposal Requirements section below).

Individual books may be supported by only one R&I Book Manuscript Workshop Grant. A book manuscript which is reviewed through an R&I Book Manuscript Workshop Grant may be supported through one subsequent R&I Book Fellowship.

Applicant eligibility: Full-time UNL tenured/tenure-track faculty with at least three years of experience at UNL at the time of submission are eligible to serve as principal investigator (PI) and submit a proposal to this competition. Research professors, professors of practice, postdoctoral fellows, faculty with part-time appointments, and visiting or adjunct appointees are not eligible to apply as PI.

For external workshops, the PI must be a primary author or co-author of the book manuscript. For internal workshops at UNL, the PI may be an author/co-author or may coordinate a workshop for other faculty without being an author (e.g., a departmental executive officer could serve as PI and coordinate an internal workshop for multiple faculty authors in their department).

Other personnel: Other essential project personnel (e.g., co-investigators) must hold a paid UNL appointment. Individuals from external institutions or holding only courtesy or adjunct appointments at UNL may not be included as project personnel.

For internal workshops requesting support for multiple book manuscripts, each supported manuscript must be represented by at least one primary author or co-author as project personnel who meets the eligibility criteria for the PI stated above (i.e., is a full-time UNL tenured/tenure track faculty member with at least three years of experience at UNL at the time of submission).

Limit on the number of applications: PIs may submit one proposal to this program per deadline (i.e., PIs may only submit an R&I Book Fellowship or an R&I Manuscript Workshop Grant per deadline).

Limit on the number of awards: UNL faculty may have no more than one active award from this program as PI (inclusive of both R&I Book Fellowships and R&I Book Manuscript Workshop Grants). These awards do not count toward the limit of two R&I internal grants in any four-year fiscal period. Assistant professors may only receive support for one book through this program (i.e., no more than one R&I Book Manuscript Workshop Grant and one subsequent R&I Book Fellowship for the same book).

Associate professors may only receive support for two books from this program (i.e., no more than two R&I Book Manuscript Workshop Grants and two subsequent R&I Book Fellowships for two books). Full professors may receive support for an unlimited number of books.

PIs who are unsure about their eligibility based on current or prior awards received through this program are strongly advised to contact R&I staff to discuss the potential allowability of another award before applying (see the Additional Information section below).

Resubmissions: Declined proposals may be resubmitted following substantive revision in response to reviewers' comments. However, all proposals will be treated as new applications. Resubmissions should not be described as revised applications, and revisions should not be called out in proposal narratives.

Proposal Requirements

Overall instructions and formatting: Proposals should be prepared using an 8.5" x 11" page size with 1" margins and single-spaced 11-point font (Arial, Calibri, Aptos, Georgia, or Times New Roman). The font sizes used in captions, graphics, tables, and detailed budgets may be smaller, but this text must be legible when printed.

Importantly, the proposal must be written in lay language understandable to non-specialist reviewers. Avoid the use of technical jargon and acronyms to the extent possible.

Proposal components: Please prepare the following information—in the order described—as a single PDF. The inclusion of appendices or documents in addition to those requested below are not allowed.

1. Coversheet and Project Abstract (two-page maximum)

Provide:

- The title of the proposal.
- An indication of whether support is requested for an internal or external workshop.
- A list of all project personnel, including their titles, UNL departments/units, and roles. Clearly identify the project PI.
- Draft titles of each book manuscript for which support is requested and the UNL project personnel who are the authors of each manuscript.
- The total amount requested for the grant.
- An indication of whether the PI or any project personnel have received prior funding from the R&I Book Fellowship and Manuscript Workshop Program. Note: Simply indicate if prior funding from the program has been received. Additional details are not needed on the coversheet.*
- An indication of whether funded external contractors or vendors will be involved (see Budget Guidelines below for information about allowable external contractors). Note: Simply indicate if funded external contractors or vendors will be involved. Additional details are not needed on the coversheet.*
- A 300-word project abstract that summarizes the need for the book manuscript workshop, the plan and timeline for participating in or hosting the workshop, and how the workshop will enhance the quality of the book manuscript(s).

2. Update on Previous Awards (if applicable; one-page maximum)

- If the PI or any project personnel have received prior funding from the R&I Book Fellowship and Manuscript Workshop Program, provide an update on the status of each award, including the amount and purpose of each previous award, the award period, a list of project personnel and their roles (identify the PI), how the previous funding was used, and when each book was or will be published relative to the previous award(s).

3. Proposal Narrative (three-page maximum)

A. Introduction

- Provide a brief summary of each book manuscript that will be supported, including the research, scholarly, and/or creative topic that each book will address.
- Explain why a book manuscript workshop and expert review is needed to enhance the quality of the book manuscript(s) prior to submission for publication.

B. Proposed Plan

- Describe the specific activities to be conducted with the funds with enough specificity so reviewers may understand the plan for participating in the external workshop or preparing for and hosting an internal workshop. The scope of the activities must align with a one-year funding period and the requested budget.
 - If requesting funds to participate in an external manuscript workshop, include details about the workshop such as the hosting organization, expected qualifications of reviewers, the workshop structure, etc.
 - If requesting funds to host a manuscript workshop at UNL, the plan should identify a suitable meeting space on campus, summarize a planned structure for the workshop, justify an appropriate number of external expert reviewers, and provide a brief description of the external expert reviewers' credentials. The plan must also identify the UNL students and faculty that will be invited to the workshop.
- Summarize a plan for integrating feedback and revising the book manuscript(s) after the workshop.
- If the project is collaborative, summarize the roles and responsibilities of the PI and other essential project personnel.

C. Impact

- Describe the potential impact of the proposed activities, specifically how participating in/hosting the workshop will:
 - Ultimately contribute to the successful publication of the new book(s).
 - Be important to the UNL author(s)' long-term goals and/or professional development and UNL's overall scholarly reputation.
 - Advance excellence and achievement in research, scholarship, and/or creative endeavors at UNL.
- If requesting funds to host a manuscript workshop at UNL, describe the importance of the workshop as a professional development opportunity for the UNL students and faculty

D. Timeline

- Provide a timeline summarizing when key activities will occur during the one-year grant period and when each book is expected to be published (which may occur during or after the award period).

4. References Cited (if applicable; one-page maximum)

- Provide a list of references cited in the proposal.

5. Biographical Sketches (three-page maximum per person)

- Provide a biographical sketch for the PI and any essential project personnel.
- Proposers may use any format they choose. However, the same format should be used for all project personnel regardless of the format chosen. Proposers may use:
 - The template available here.
 - An agency-specific format (e.g., NIH, NSF, or USDA).
 - Another format.

6. Current and Pending Support (no page limit)

- Provide a listing of current and pending support (internal and external) for the PI and any essential project personnel.
- Proposers may use any format they choose. However, the same format should be used for all project personnel regardless of the format chosen. Proposers may use:
 - The template available here.
 - An agency-specific format (e.g., NSF or USDA).
 - Another format.
- Regardless of the format chosen, the listings of current and pending support should include, at a minimum, the project title, total awarded/requested amount, funding period, funding agency, and percent effort or person months dedicated to each project.

7. Budget and Budget Justification (one-page maximum for budget; one-page maximum for justification)

- Provide a detailed budget (Excel or Word document) and budget justification.
- See Budget Guidelines below for information on allowable and unallowable costs.
- Applicants should provide strong rationale in the budget justification about how the funds will be used to carry out the proposed project.
- If matching funds are included in the proposal, include a section in the budget justification explaining what the matching funds will be used for.
- Proposers may wish to consider and make use of the budget template and budget justification samples curated by the Office of Sponsored Programs on its Proposal Preparation Resources webpage.

8. Book Documentation (no page limit)

- For each book manuscript that will be supported, provide a book prospectus or documentation to demonstrate the commitment of a publisher (i.e., an advance contract, contract with a publisher, or a letter from an editor describing their intent to publish the book).
- If providing a book prospectus rather than commitment from a publisher, applicants should submit a detailed prospectus similar to what would be submitted to an academic book publisher.

9. Matching Funds Letter(s) (if applicable; one-page maximum per each source of matching funds)

- Matching funds from UNL departments, colleges, and/or centers are allowed but not required. If matching funds are described in the budget justification, include written approval of the matching funds from appropriate signatories in any contributing departments, colleges, and/or centers.

Incomplete proposals will not be reviewed.

Proposal Submission Process and Deadline

Applications for internal funding must be submitted via the Internal Competitions module in NuRamp (<https://nuramp.nebraska.edu>). Sign in to NuRamp using your institutional credentials.

Proposals must be submitted by 5:00 p.m. Central on Wednesday, April 1, 2026.

Late proposals will not be reviewed.

Budget Guidelines

Budget requests must comply with applicable university policies.

Allowable costs

- Expenditures to support participation in an external manuscript workshop or to conduct a manuscript workshop at UNL, which may include:
 - Travel and per diem (lodging, meals, and incidental expenses).
 - Honoraria for external, expert reviewers to participate in a workshop at UNL.
 - Food and beverages for participants attending manuscript workshops at UNL.

Unallowable costs

- Costs for developmental editing, editing, and copy editing
- Funds for research/scholarship/creative endeavors or travel to contribute to the content of a new book
- Funding for a course buyout or salary support for the PI or other project personnel
- Costs outside of those specified as allowable above
- Facilities and administrative (F&A) costs (sometimes known as indirect costs)

Sub-recipients/external contractors: Sub-recipients are not allowed. However, external contractors or vendors providing goods or services may invoice UNL for project-related costs. Click here to access federal definitions of subrecipients and contractors.

Compliance Guidelines

Funds cannot be released unless all personnel identified on the project routing form have an approved conflict of interest (COI)/conflict of commitment (COC) disclosure in place. Participating UNL personnel who do not have a currently approved COI/COC disclosure should complete the online COI/COC Annual Disclosure Form in NuRamp as soon as possible.

Outstanding compliance approvals—such as those required for research involving human subjects, Human Embryonic Stem Cells and/or their derivatives and Human Fetal Tissue and/or their derivatives, animal subjects, transgenic animals, recombinant DNA, biohazards, select agents, radioactive materials, regulated plant materials, and/or the export laws and regulations of the United States—will delay the release of funds following award notification. Contact Research Compliance, Integrity, and Security for more information.

Proposal Review Process and Timeline

Review process: R&I will recruit faculty reviewers from across the UNL community to provide non-technical reviews. Applicants should not expect reviewers to be subject matter experts in their specific disciplines and should prepare proposals accordingly.

R&I staff will prepare a report summarizing the proposal review process and review outcomes and share it with the Vice Chancellor for Research and Innovation, who will make final funding decisions.

All applicants will receive summarized written feedback on their applications from the review process when notified about the funding outcome.

Proposal review criteria and rubric: Proposals will be reviewed based on the following scoring rubric (100 points possible):

Proposal Review Criteria – R&I Book Manuscript Workshop Grants	Maximum Value
Need for an R&I Book Manuscript Workshop Grant and impact: The extent to which the workshop: 1) is needed to enhance the quality of the book manuscript(s) prior to submission for publication and 2) will advance the UNL author(s)' long-term goals and/or professional development; UNL's overall scholarly reputation; excellence and achievement in research, scholarship, and/or creative endeavors; and (for internal workshops) the professional development of participating UNL students and faculty.	25
Quality of the proposed plan of work and the likelihood of publication: The extent to which the proposal presents a realistic plan and timeline to participate in or host a book manuscript workshop. The likelihood that the grant will enhance the quality of the book manuscript(s) and ultimately contribute to the successful publication of the new book(s). If applicable, the extent to which any previous funding the PI or other personnel have received from the Book Fellowship and Manuscript Workshop Program has been successfully leveraged to support book publication or appropriate progress toward book publication.	50
Qualifications of PI/personnel: The extent to which the PI/personnel are well-qualified to successfully complete the proposed project and, for collaborative projects, the roles and responsibilities of all personnel are clearly explained.	15
Quality of the budget and justification: The extent to which the outlined costs are appropriate, reasonable, and realistic in relation to the scope, duration, and plans for the grant and the strength of the rationale in the budget justification.	10

Award timeline: Award announcements will be made no later than July 2026. For this award cycle, the award period is August 1, 2026, to July 31, 2027.

Award Conditions and Requirements

Reporting: Recipients must submit a final report to R&I no later than 30 days after the end of the funding period or award termination date. A report template will be sent with the award notification.

Timely publication of the new book(s): Delays in publication that deviate from the publication timeline should be communicated to R&I in writing as soon as possible. If a supported book is not published in a reasonable amount of time, the PI and/or author may be deemed ineligible for all R&I funding for three years.

Acknowledgement of support: Recipients must acknowledge support from the UNL R&I Book Fellowship and Manuscript Workshop Program: 1) in any new books that were supported through the workshop when they are published and 2) when the UNL manuscript workshop is advertised and during the workshop on campus (if relevant).

No-cost extensions: Requests for a no-cost extension of up to six months will be considered if needed. Any requests for a no-cost extension of awarded funds must be made by the start of the final month of the award period to allow for processing. Only one no-cost extension will be considered for each award.

Unused funds: Funds must be used by the project end date, unless a no-cost extension is granted. Any unused funds at the completion of the award must be returned. University purchasing and travel reimbursement guidelines and timelines must be followed; thus, applicants are encouraged to spend award funds in a timely manner to avoid last-minute purchases near the end of the award term.

Budget reallocation: Minor reallocations of funds among existing, approved budget categories are allowable without approval from R&I, provided the reallocation does not alter the scope of the funded project. However, reallocations involving 25 percent or more within an approved budget category or for new, unapproved items or budget categories must be approved by R&I in writing in advance of the reallocation.

Transfer of award: If the PI is an author/co-author of a supported book manuscript and leaves the university before the project start date, or during the award period, project funds may not be transferred to another faculty member, and the funds remaining in the account must be returned.

If the PI is not an author/co-author of a supported book manuscript and is only coordinating an internal workshop for other faculty authors, it is possible funds may be transferred to another UNL faculty member if the PI leaves the university, if the personnel can demonstrate that the transfer will not alter the original scope, timing, or quality of the funded work. PIs should contact R&I immediately in the case of a planned departure from the university to discuss the possibility and process for transfer to a new PI.

Failure to meet award conditions or requirements may disqualify PIs from future internal R&I funding.

Volunteer to Serve as a Peer Reviewer

Given the number of internal applications R&I receives, many faculty volunteers are needed to serve on review panels. If you are interested in learning more about the internal review process and/or volunteering to serve as a reviewer, please visit our peer reviewer volunteer webpage.

Note: Faculty will not serve on review panels of competitions to which they have submitted a proposal.*
